SUB-CONTRACTORS' ACTION.

In the Summary Court this morning further evidence was taken, before Mr Justice Kemp, Puisne Judge, in the partheard action brought by the Chai Li Company against the Houng Choung Firm and Yam Kee and Loung Hi Ping, two partners therein, to recover $518 money deposited by the plaintiffs with the defendants under an agreement and now repayable with interest at the rate of eight per cont.

Mr. C. A. S. Russ, of Mosars, Goldring and Russ, appeared for the plaintiffs, and Mr. C. D. Lewis, of Messrs. Johnson. Stokes and Master, for defendants.

Mr. Dickson, an assistant engineer in the Public Works Department, gave particulars with regard to the carrying out of the contract, which he supervised, and said its completion was much delayed, owing, he thought, to finencial difficulties which the detendant firm experienced.

In answer to Mr. Lewis the witness said the Government did not recognise sub-contractors and did not trouble to learn the terms of the sub-contract.

Saturday afternoon at 81, Hollywood Road. The fire brigade attended, an managed to confine the flames to the basement and ground floor. The shop was occupied by a furniture dealer, and an estimated loss of $600 was sustained. which is not covered by insurance. Time was when disease was thought to be due to the direct influence of evil spirits, and exorcism and magic were invoked to cast it out.

Science has taught us wisdom. The evil spirits exist still. We call them " Disease Germs," and they also must be cast out... Once lodged in the stomach or intestines; fever with its hallucinations, or biliousness with its aches and pains, is the result.

FRUIT SALT

is the approved remedy for driving out disease germs. Its action is quick and thorough. It clears the intestines, rouses the torpid liver to new life, stimulates the mucous membrane to a healthy action, and cleanses and invigorates the whole digestive tract.

It may be safely taken at any time by young

A FAMOUS SURGEON-GENERAL.

Deputy Surgeon-General John Lloyd Thomas, R.N. (retired), of Penmon, Anglesey, who died recently, joined the Stuff Surgeon in February 1808, Fleet 'result of injuries sustained when she ran Surgeon November 1806, retiring in 1911 in front of the King's horse during the as Deputy Surgeon-General.

He received special mention for his services as surgeon of the Bellerophon 616 during an outbreak of yellow fever from November, 1801, to February, 1802, the West Indies. He was also present during the China-Japan War of 1894-05, taking charge of a native hospital at Che-Endymion, acted as Principal Medical Officer of the Naval Brigade in the advance to Peking, being present at the netions on the route from Tientsin -to being mentioned in despatches, promoted Pleet Surgeon, and awarded China Medal and Peking clusp.

" UNFIT FOR AND LA."

According to prose tments by the grand jury, Sing Sing, the greatest prison in New York State, deserves condemnation severe as that visit d upon high police officials of New York, who were recently rendes, having little or no effect either on sentenced for levying blackmail upon the New York underworld. An official report houses about 2, 00 pri ocers, is unfit for animals, let alone human beings, and only remedy in night is to tear downanother more in accordance with modern views of hygiene and humanitarianism. The housing expacity of the priven is 1,200, 868 of immores has always ranged from 1,500 2. 00. The pres nument was unanimous, affixing their eiguatures.

The report declares that Sing Sing is beyond the sawer of reform, and immediate action to comstruct another gool is recommended. "There are many cells in which aunlight never penetrates, and which create chills and dampness. Many of the imura at have theumatism and have left the prison permanent'y emppled or suff ring. The cells are unfit for heasing amunal, much less human beings. It is the most crying York. The colls are infested with vermin. We find that a short time befere this in- represent her. vestigation began men had been driven insane by incarceration in the cooler, or darkest cell, and mon lave gone into it and during a very short stay lost from 251b to Shib; and that in consequence of the agony and suffering they have attempted suloide."

The launity, bath-house, and factories are declared to be grossly jundequate, and that practice of storing vegetables and bedding together is denounced.

The report condensing Sing Sing Prison was presented at the instance of the Governor of the State, but to ascertain ita precise value one must deduct 4mothing for bian, which party politica import here into all questions of Blate administration, whether the object attacked be the per sonnel of the police for the great penal calablishment in which prisoners are confired After making all allowances, Sing Sing appears to be almost as repellant as the ancient Bastille, and the publication of the official report tr-tay will probably compel imprediate action to secure much needed reform.

THE FUNERAL OF MISS DAVISON.

Dang - Count to will I did a sec

REMARKABLE SCENES.

The funeral of Miss Emily Wilding service in February 1884. He became Davison, the suffragist who died as the race for the Derby Stakes, took place on June 14. Clad in the white and black and purple of mourning, bearing banners binzoned with texts and mottees, and accompanied by the strains of funereal music, acme thousands of Suffragists escorted the body across London.

It was an effective domonstration, and y t there was something in its atmosphere that prompted a doubt as to whether it foo. He also, while Staff Surgeon on the made just that impression on the watching public which had been hoped for and intended. Silont a d respectful, at least for the most part, the onlookers undoubtedly were, treating the feneral procession with the reverence to be expected from an Eng-Peking and the relief of the Legations, lish crowd. But the prevailing sentiment seeined rother to be one of curiosity than of sympathy or emotion, and, indeed, on one or two occasions ill-na ured people allowed their hautility to the movement to overcome their goed m pnurs.

> ILL-MANNERED INCIDENTS. For instance, at Victoria there was a murmer of booing when the coffin was being brought out to its place in the precession, In Shaftesbury avenue a man shouted wildly to those about him, "Don't take your hats off," as the hier went by. And outside St. George's Church, Bloomsbury there was semo huetling, and youths shouted references to the King's Borse and its rider. Happily, these were quite minor ocour the procession or the spectators. There was one other incident, however, enggest that Sing Sing, which usually which for a moment threatened trouble. Towards the rear of the procession were several men marching under the banner of the Dockers' Union. This section had reached Half Moon-street, Piccadilly, when prison from riof to basement, and build the police stopped it in order to let a misil van through. Apparently this action was resented by one of the dockers, for he flung himself at the horses beads and endeavoured to force them back; hurling the most but during the last few years the number violent epithets at the driver. A shirt but docker followed and oventually the latter was forced to release his grip on the bridles all the purors and the District Attorney and was pulled away y some of his friends. Fortunately the coffin, with the mourners in immediate atlandance, and long gone by.

MRS. PANKHURST'S CARRIAGE Probably the majority of the spectators lid not realiss the eignificance of what, next to the bier itself, was the most striking fearant of the whole procession It was an empty cirrige, drawn by two orses. That arriage had been intended for Mis. Pankhurst, and both proceding i and immediately beaund it marched bands of women whose modils proclaimed them "hunger strikers." But representatives of a tuation that exists among State institut and, to quote the words of Misa Sylvia tong and is a scandal to the State of N. w Pankhurst to our representative, "Told my mother that if she was well enough to which, on account of the construction, it is go to prison." And so it came about that impossible to endicate. We find that con- while absequies were being coorded to the victor in pronounced stages of tuberculosis disciple, the leader was being conducted back once more to Holloway Prison, leaving only the empty carriage to

It was about half past twelve when the train to which the funeral car was attached errived at Victoria Station from Epsom, removal of the body were of the simplest. brother, with his wife and daughter, travelled on the train, and the coffin was branch, and a banner with the words watched by a bodyguard of Suffragists, "Fight on, and God will give the dressed in white, with black sashes, and victory.

part of the proceedings, for admission to led with white ropes by four the platform was reserved. There was an Suffragists, while four others acted as hour and a half to wait, and the time was bodyguards. Coaches with family mourutilised in placing over the cuffic a purple ners, chief among whom were Mrs. Davison, pall, and surmounting it with laurel of Long Horsley, the deceased's mother, wreaths, and in arranging the floral and Madame Debecker, of St. Malo, her Or these there was un immense sister, followed the coffin, and behind a number, including some of very great number of the sympathisers and the general beauty. TRIUMPH OF ORGANISATION. It was the busiest part of Saturday after- Welcome, the Northumbrian hungernoon, when the City workers are hurrying striker." homewards in their thousands, and the Strong Room and outhouses suitable for traffic is thickest. No light undertaking the crowded roads, and for the assembled people a freedom from injury. It is a tribute to the work of Superintendent Wells and the great force of men working under him that they succeeded so well.

Some idea of its length may be gained from the fact that it occupied half an hour in passing a given point. Leading it was a tall, white-clad woman, bearing a cross, her fair hait uncovered. Rows of girls holding wreaths of laurel followed her, and and then came successive section of London members attired in black, purple; white, and carrying either a purple iris, peony, or a "adonna lily. All ages and all conditions of women were included in this part of the procession. HUNGER-STRIKERS AND GRAT-UATES. Certainly the most interesting section was that which immediately preceded and followed the coffin, and it provided, too, a splash of colour to relieve the whites and purples. There were many hunger-strikers occupying posts of honour, and there was a little group of six women and one man who the day before had stood in the dock at the Old Bailey, and whose trial will enter on its final stage te-morrow! There were about a dezen clergymen, some of them in hood and gown, and, coming after the bier, and Captain Davison, and the deceased's intimate friends (including Miss Sylvia Pankhurat), and the carriages bearing the wrenths, was a company of women doctors f science, medicine, and letters, women masters and bachelors of arts, in their robes of scarlet and black, their hoods of gold and silver and blue and purple.

Provincial members, attired in mourning and all carrying flowers, were followed by out ide organisations all of which brough their own banners. Among these were the Actresses' Franchise League, Women's Freedom League, the Men's League for Women's Suffrage, Men's Political Union r Women's Suffrage, Forward Cymric Suffrage Union, Central Laborr College, the Gas Workers and General Labourers Union, the Dockers' Union, the Church League for Justice to Women, and others. Mrs. Despard, Mr. Frank Smith, and Mr.

Ben Tillett were prominent processionists. There were ten bands, and the strains of Chopin's. "Marche Funebre," the Dead March in "Baul," or the "Marseillaise were heard all along the route, while each section bore banners with inscriptions worked in white on a purple ground, such Bi as "Fight on, and God will give the "She hath done what she could": "Give me liberty or give me death"; "Thoughts have gone forth whose power can sleep no more. Victory, victory.

POLICE ADVICE ICHORED. Disregarding it e advice of the Commissioner of Police, the organisers of the procession adhered to the busy route they had originally chosen, and no attempt was made by the authorities to divert ital At. Victoria the crowd was so dense that progress was difficult, but there were com paratively for people in Grosvenor-place or Piccadilly, the explanation of this being. that, under the impression that the police would take the cortage another way, the browd, tired of waiting, had gone off home or takon train or hus to King's cross. Hyde Park-corner, Piccadilly circus, and Shaltesbury-avenue accommodated a great number of eightseers, and many remained n Rossell-square with the major part of the pincossion, while the narvice was in Tregress. The nei bhourhood of King's cross was througed, people crowding into the St. Pancras tation approach, and into the roadway, in tens of thousands. Any attempt at running Iraffic through was impossible. Due to arrive in time to catch the ball-post five train for Morneth, Northumberland, the cortego was some what after scheduled time in reaching the station, But at ength the coffin was romoved form its blor to the tr in, and the be Courteously and Promptly surved Suffragists, in D7 of them in tears, bade a fuel the Same. # A Celebrated Violiniste

The power to excel, the confidence which ensures her brilliant successes, says the talented violinist, Miss Sybil Keymer, is entirely due to her abundance of vigorous nerve force created by Phosferine. How greatly the numerous distinctions and triumphant career of this accomplished musician are promoted by the brain energy and physical stamina developed by Phosferine, is evident from Miss Keymer's admission that the tonic "enabled me to do myself justice." This power to excel, this ability to make berfect use of her skill, depends upon the marvellous control and steadiness of the muscle nerves Phosferine has given her, and to which she owes the entrancing tone and quality of her musical renditions. Naturally, this energising effect of Phosferine was accompanied by the disappearance of the headaches, listlessness, and fatigue, which were the bane of her public appearances, and it is this happyoutcome which impels Miss Keymer to testify to the exceptional advantages to be derived from Phosferine.

Promptly Remedied.

Miss Sybil Keymer, "Riversmere," Albany Rd., Leighton Buzzard, Eng., writes: "I think I should inform you that I have recently derived very great benefit from the use of Phosferine. In the course of my profession I have to travel a good deal in getting to my various concerts, and I find that since using Phosferine I am never troubled with the headaches and listlessness which follow a long railway journey, particularly during hot weather. This is of very great importance to me, as frequently only a very little time elapses between reaching my destination and the commencement of a concert, and it is such a relief to feel fresh, and ready for playing in "public undisturbed by the fatigues of long travelling. It is because I feel that Phosferine enables me to do myself justice as a violinist, preventing any of the unsteadiness of the muscle nerves, which is so harmful to tone and quality, that I confidently commend the tonic at every opportunity."- July 11, 1912.

PRINCESS'S ACTION.

Strange Court Story.

The action was continued yesterday says the "Daily Telegraph," of June 21, in the King's Bench Division, before Mr. Justice Darling and a special jury, in which the plaintiff, Jeanne Augustine Nocl, Princesse di Formosa, wife of an Italian nobleman, seeks to recover damages for alleged slunder and false imprisonment, from Mr. George Granville Hope-Johnstone, who was stated to have carried on a betting business, and also to have been a sporting tipster. In October, 1910, plaintiff went with defendant on a voyage to Ceylon, am they fived together on terms of intimacy on various occasions until October, 1912. At that time, according to plaintiff's story, she was in London, and on the evening of October 17 defendant gave her into the austody of a police-constable on the charge of having stolen £6 from his flat. She was taken to Vine-street

The defence was that the words uttered reasons for giving her into custody. There was also a counter-claim, in which, said ier counsel, allegations were made that in October last and onwards until February plaintiff was a blackmailer, and that sho had unlawfully and maliciously threatened defendant that unless he gave her money she would tell his clients that he would cheat them, and that under four of those threats he had paid her sums of money, which he claimed to recover.

Mr. Schwabe (instructed by Mr. Michael Abrahams) appeared for plaintiff; Mr. Marshall Hall, K.O. and Mr. IcCardio (instructed by Kenneth Brown and Co:) represented defendant. Plaintiff, continuing her ovidence, said that she nover sow any sum of 26 at the find in Handvor-square. There was no ground for the suggestion that she thought she had taken it. He never mentioned it on the afternoon of the day ha gave her in charge, although she had seen him at six o'clock. Witness was asked a question with reference to the time she paid in a cheque for £340 given her by defendant in payment of certain debts, but which was "Mr. Marshall Hall objected to the lady's banking account being produced. His Lordship: Your can have a banking account without having any money in it. (Laughter.) Mr. Marshall Hall: I have had the xperience myself. His Lordship; I have heard people refer to their bankers as "the people who

The gentleman who had been referred to as "Charles" was banker, a director of the Comptoir National d'Escompte. He was an old friend of hers and her husband.

Cross-examined by Mr. Marshall Hall This man you call "Uncle Charles," is ho a Mr. Hudo?-Yes.

Havo you over lived with him as his mistress for some long period of time?-No. It was a lady of the defendant's family who lived with him for five years. A 2 Wors you born in 1870? #### PRINCESS'S ACTION.

Is he anything to do with the Prince do Formosa who was mixed up in the gambling trouble at the Travellers' Olub in Paris?-It was not a gambling trouble. Was ho turned out of France?-Ho was, but matters were arranged after-

His Lordship: Who turned him out of France?-It was a powerful gentleman. Was he turned out by the police?-

Mr. Marshall Hall': Did you threaten defendant if he did not give you back your letters you would show him up?never threatened him. To

You have written him many affectionate letters?-I have been very fund of him. When do you say you thought of getting married?-When we could get free. Mrs. Hope-Johnstone wanted to divorce him, and I was trying to annul my marriage with the Prizee di Fermosa.

You are still trying?-Yes, I am. When you came to London in October, 1012, was it for the purpose of spending a time with Mr. Hope-Johnstone on the old terms?-No; my mother is English, and I often used to spend a good deal of time in England. Did you resume your old relations with de feridant at Hanover-square?-I did not. Did you fly into a violent temper one night at the flat?-Yes. I was in a had

Did you throw a jug ?-No. A jug got broken because I was thrown against a table, which is a different thing.

Plaintiff denied that she saw defendant place a sum of £7 in a drawer and that he complained in the morning that Lo had vanished. The £6 was not mentioned until the day of the arrest. She denied that on October 17 she went to Mr. Hope-Johnstone's office and threatened to say he chented his clients unless he gave her

THE ARREST.

Coming to the incident of the arrest. plaintiff devied that she was threatening Mr. Hope-Johnstone in a loud voice, and saying also would give him in charge for s accosting ber.

On the night of October 24, did you and defendant pass the night at the Gresvenor Hotel as Mr. and Mrs. Johnstone?-No. Did you go with him to Sandown races the next day?-I do not remember.

His Lordship: You know if you went there a great many peole would see you? -- I would tell you if I know. I did make it up with him later on, after all sorts of promises. I have seen him several times over this case.

Did you go about with him and dine with him after the writ had been served? -Not except under threats.

Mr. Marshall Hall: Did you not go his flat at least thirty or forty times, and stay till one in the morning?-No. I did go to his flat about once a week.

On November 15, in Paris, you were both the best of friends, and he gave you a-cheque? He came over for the purpose of trying to settle the case.

Was the cheque for £340 to be a complote settlement of everything in dispute between you -No. It was repayment of a special sum.

In December of last year plaintiff said she came to London. Shown a card, she said it was in her writing, but it must have been written before December 8 of last year, as it was on old paper that she had not used for years. Mr. Marshall Hall: This was found late last night or this morning.

to a " Hiteny BAD." The card and the envelope in which it was said to have been enclosed were handed to his lordship, who said the envelope was addressed to Mr. Hope-Johnstone, and the postmark was December 8, 1912. That date was a Tuesday, said his lordship, and the card was dated "Tuesday noon."

Plaintiff: I did not use that paper since

His Lordship: Who was Schiff? A friend; an Englishman. Where does he live?-I do not know.

How long have you known him ?-I have hardly known him. How long have you hardly known him

-I met him three or four times last His lordship, resuming the reading of

He likes you and gives you good advice. If you feel upset again write to me. I will always try to make it ensior for you. Good-bye, little one. Plaintiff: That was not written in December:

The card and envelope were handed to the jury, and a juryman pointed out that the postmark on the envelope apseared faintly also on the card. Plaintiff said she wished to explain the letter, but before doing so the desired that a witness, a valet named Richards. should leave the court. The wish being complied with plaintiff said Mr. Hope Johnstone on one occasion come to see hor, and told her there were many things against her. She replied that there was only one-their relations. He said, does not matter as long as things are found in my letter-box, and as I opened is I sold to Richards, This is from Madame. " He told me," plaintiff continued. " it was put into the letterbox in order that he might be able to find it in front of his servant." When did he say that?-This year,

When did you write that letter !- I swear I did not write that letter December last. I swear he said he put it into the letter-box in order to be able to find it before his servant.

музтинося жоном. Witness was asked if she sent a telegram from Dover Pier: Thanks, darling, Vermiss very very much."

Witness: That was in answer to a teles gram he sent me saying " Cheer up. Things may not be so bad as you think. It was about this case, which I did not want to bring. Counsel: I suggest that "Vormiss" is a code word for "I love you." Witness: There was no code. Counsel put to witness a letter from her to defendant, starting "My dear grumble," in which the word Vermiss was Counsel: What does it means that Witness: I really don't know. His Lordship: Did you ever write that word before you wrote it there?-I don't know. Sometimes he used to say words Does it mean anything in any langu-ago?-I don't know. Will you swear there was no code be tween you?-Only on a journey to South 'America many years ago.

Is Vermiss a term of the greatest affection between you?-There was no code. Here is another telegram, with Vermiss in it, and the words, " Didn't understand code word." Was that in answer to a telegram from defendant, which saids Are you all right, dear? . What is your telephone number? . . .- Verbistis. His Lordship: What does that mean? Counsel: It means "I love you very much." Both words are in the Unic

Witness: There was no code. Counsel put other letters from Mr. Lope-Johnstone to the witness and from for to him. In one the defendant said, Your picture adorns my house. Better than the one you broke. . . . You are a darling- . . . Je t' embrasse. You have told me that means nothing if a Frenchrunn says it, but I am English." In another he said, " I will try and forgive your hypotritical display on Sunday."

Mr. Marshall Hall put to witness conversation he suggested she had "with defendant in the drawing-room of a house in South Kensington. . . Witness denied having had such conversation. Councal: Be coroful about this, because 5 was overheard. Did he say, " How are you off for money?" Did you say, I have very little. Webster gives me what he can, and he has got to take my things out of pawn." Did you say that !

-No. I did not. Was it true that Webster was going to Fowls, Canten, -Kai take your things out of pawn?-No. Have you over pawned anything?don't say I have not

Who was " Webster "?-Ho does no exist. I put everything on to "Wobs ter" to try and get out of this trouble when I kept, gotting telegrams and telepone calls about the case. "Webster does not exist at all. I don't know any. body of that name.

Witness added that she remembered defendant saying that it did not matter if a thing was true as long as it was proved in court.

the water safe and sterile. This remarkable fact has been frequently illustrated, says "Engineering" for 11th ult; in a very interesting and instructive article but it may be doubted whether a more striking example of how effective were the methods of a past generation of water engineers could be found than is recorded in the highly instructive presidential address which Mr. C. E. Smith, M. Inst. C.E., delivered recently to the Institution of Water Engineers at Wakefield.

In another part of his address, Mr C. E. Smith ventured a plea for greater co-operation in experimental per share. This should read 831 per share. work, pointing out very truly that an immense amount of research work is carried out by engineers of which no we think there are two reasons. the first place, engineers who have tuken a considerable risk in introducing innovations in established practice are often prone to consider the data thereby obtained as a asset We remember, for instance, a case in which considerable difficulty was encountered in sealing Place. - On 5th July, at Kwang Lung Road, Tientsin, the wife of Mr V. GAMBLING BY KOWLOON HOUSE B YS.

At the Magistracy this morning before Hazeland, Sergt. Wills brought up nine bouseboys employed at Kowloop or a charge of gambling.

Mr. A. C. Seidel, of 4 Durbar Villas, said that the previous night about 12 o'clock he heard a noise in the servants' quarters, and on going there he saw the Mr. defendants gambling. He had warned his boy several times before about having others into samble.

Sorgt. Wills said that the defendants were not on bail, as they were only ariest ed at I o'clock that morning.

The Magist ste said that Mr. Seidel's Donald Dhu." Fime 2m. I seem boy scenied to have been running a sor of gambling house. There seemed to be lot of this sort of thing going on. Sergt Wills replied that there was, and

COURAGEOUS ACTS OF RESCUE.

Courageous acts of rescue were performd n the steumship " Baron Ersk ne." on Saturday, on which a senmen who was sent into the fore peak tank was sufficiented with two of his cominder who to re seue him. It seems that through an order being misunderstood the serang poned the fore peak tank; and sent down by foul gas. The sersog bravely went to come himself, and a like fate beful a third Indian a lamp trimmer who went the rescue of the two. The bodies were eventually recovered by

We regret to record the death of Mr. John Armitege Collis, third son of Mr. Henry Collis, Hobart, Tasmania, who passed away, at Kowloon yesterday after an illness of only three or four days' duration, Mr. Collis, who acted as private secretary to Mrs. Foy, had twice lived in Rungkong and was fairly well known in the Colony. He first came here some nine or ten years ago, rathair for a period of two or three resided in the Colony for nearly three years. He leaves a widow, with whom much

The Hongkong Gymkhana Club held their third meeting of the season at Happy Valley on Saturday afternoon. The Club was egain unfortunate in the matter making the course very heavy for the horses. So threatening did the sky look on Saturday afternoon, that when the first race started, there were but few people to witness it, and the backing was very slow. A sharp shower fell while the first race was being run, but after this the remainder of the afternoon was fortunately fine. The attendance, however, did not greatly im-The papers, while somewhat sym- prove with the weather.
